

Naples Library Local History Collection Policy

Local History resources are of lasting and cumulative value for developing local knowledge and understanding. Saving unique historical records, photographs, etc. that document the past is one of the important services of a public library.

Goals

The purpose of the Local History Collection is to serve the community through acquisition, classification, preservation and provision of access to a well-organized and balanced collection that documents Naples's history.

Scope

The aim of the Local History Collection is to provide a range of materials reflecting the history of the community. Emphasis will be on the acquisitions of those materials which will contribute to the knowledge of the social, civic, religious, economic and cultural life, both past and present, of Naples, New York. Materials to be collected include books, diaries, yearbooks, pamphlets, newsletters, bulletins, periodicals, reports, letters, speeches, manuscripts, documents, maps, atlases, clippings, photographs, slides, films, videotapes, sound recordings, electronic materials, paintings, art works, prints, posters, stereo views, genealogical records, minutes, memorabilia, ephemera such as commemorative programs and advertisements as well as future types of recorded records. The collection may include a selection of materials about other towns and genealogical materials about New York and the United States that relate to Naples.

Chronological Scope

Acquisitions from any time period may be considered.

Geographical Scope

Collections will emphasize individuals, groups and organizations whose activities have principally been in Naples.

Materials for Inclusion

The following list provides guidelines for the type of material that may be sought for inclusion in the local history collection:

Published works:

- Published histories or other works (i.e. articles, dissertations, manuscripts, pamphlets or theses) relevant to Naples concerning buildings, businesses, history, organizations, and residents.
- Published works by Naples residents.
- Records of local businesses and associations, schools, churches, sporting bodies, welfare organizations etc.
- Papers of prominent local families/individuals, genealogies and manuscripts.
- Relevant family history research papers and publications.
- Reference material, such as bibliographies, directories and guides. This may include guides to holdings of relevant material in other manuscript or archival collections.
- Naples based publications such as newspapers, magazines, gazettes, newsletters, etc.
- Periodicals about Naples.
- Yearbooks from the public or private schools in Naples.
- Research papers and theses pertaining to Naples.
- Studies undertaken by private or government bodies referring to, or having impact on Naples.

Unpublished works:

- Archives of local organizations (archives must contain historically important information)
- Papers, correspondences, diaries, of Naples residents (must contain historically important information)
- Ephemera, including leaflets, flyers, pamphlets, original documents, such as land deeds, certificates and military papers specifically concerning Naples.
- Documents/research papers/photographs relating to buildings (private, commercial and public) and property.
- Catalogues, flyers, pamphlets and other promotional items issued by Naples businesses, organizations, political persons, schools, town departments, etc. containing historically important information

Other:

- Photographic works of local historical interest including prints, postcards, slides and negatives of individuals, groups, buildings, landscapes, and events.
- Plans including Survey plans, Land subdivision plans, Architectural plans and Aerial photographs.
- Current and historic maps of Naples and surrounding area.
- Oral histories made about Naples and its residents.

This policy may be amended by the Naples Library Board of Trustees at any time.

Adopted by the Naples Library Board of Trustees on May 21, 2020.